THE DISCIPLES: PERSECUTED BUT POSITIVE

As models of the Good Shepherd's gentleness and strength, Paul and Barnabas, though subjected to "violent abuse," forgo revenge and refuse to despair, choosing instead to become "a light to the Gentiles" and "an instrument of salvation to the ends of the earth." Thus, despite rejection and persecution, fellow disciples "were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit" and "the Gentiles were delighted and glorified the word of the Lord." So we should respond positively to life's negatives and face creatively whatever threatens to extinguish faith's energy. Helpless though we may feel facing evil that seems ceaseless and overwhelming, Revelation promises that disciples in every generation will one day rejoice to "have survived the time of great distress," "for the Lamb will shepherd them and lead them to springs of life-giving water, and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes." Spiritual Adoption Week 32

Wow! Just two more months to go before I am born. My mom is probably wondering why she doesn't feel me moving around very much lately, but it is getting pretty crowded in here. I can move from side to side, but it's really hard to do those flips the way I use to.

That will have to wait for gymnastics class. My mom's womb is the shape of an upside-down pear, so my head fits better in the bottom of the womb leaving my body and legs in the top part. In other words, I am standing on my head getting ready to be born.

Please pray for me and thank God for making me so wonderfully!

Quo vadis...

My Dear Parishioners:

Today we celebrate the Fourth Sunday of Easter. Most of our reflections on the paschal mystery revolve around reminders that being plunged into the dying and rising mystery of Christ through our baptism means we must die to self if we wish to share in Jesus' eternal life. We look for ordinary opportunities in our daily living to die to self and thus transform what appears to be ordinary, human actions into extensions of the ministry of the Good Shepherd himself. For example, comforting the sick and dying isn't simply a caring human action; in the context of our baptismal commitment it is an expression of Jesus' love for us and the dignity of the other as member of the body of Christ. This is true and surely the heart of the mystery. This Sunday, however, we might turn this around and rest a bit in what the Good Shepherd offers us when we live the paschal mystery: eternal life, the assurance that we will never perish. For all our efforts at dying to self, they do not equal the gift of self that Jesus gives us. Sometimes we are so caught up in the effort of dying that we do forget that new life is already within us and among us. This is a good Sunday to bask in Jesus' care and protection, listen to his voice calling us to his loving, embracing hands, and rejoice in the goodness showered upon us who are faithful to his call. This, too, is living the paschal mystery.

This year we have the great grace of enjoying the Easter Season throughout the month of April. The readings and images help us to reflect on the actions and choices of Jesus' earliest followers as recounted in the Acts of the Apostles. Time and time again we, like those early disciples, are called to walk the walk. It is not enough for us to pay lip service to what we believe and acknowledge to be true. Take time during this Spring Season to reflect on the great gift of faith that we have received pondering how we might effectively share it with those around us. This is the fruit of our Lenten Discipline when we acknowledge our excesses and have them washed away through Sacramental Penance and Reconciliation as we prepared for the renewal of our Baptismal Promises on Easter Sunday. Throughout the Easter Season, the rubrics of the Roman Missal suggest that the faithful make the Profession of Faith each Sunday by reciting the Apostle's Creed. In our parish we observe this custom throughout the Easter Season.

Many thanks to all those who helped with our Parish Easter Egg Hunt, Parish Mission, and the Spring Clean Up. We will publish the 2016 Easter Collection Report. If you have not made your gift, please do so today. I have been away for a period of time leading the Diocesan Pilgrimage. Please join me in welcoming Gared Walters who begins employment here in our parish this week. He will be assuming the part-time position of Pastoral Coordinator of Facilities and Information Technology upon the retirement of Joe Noble this coming June. Have a great week. Let us remember one another in our prayer. Happy Sunday. Peace. Father Jeff

Be a champion of children this summer. For forty years, The Sisters of the Good Shepherd have provided disadvantaged Monmouth County children with a safe and fun summer at Kateri Day Camp in Marlboro, NJ. We can't do it without your partnership!

Some key components that make our camp valuable are:

- Full-day camp for 7 weeks allows parents to work and know their child is safe
- We provide transportation, breakfast, lunch, and snack to each child
- Each child participates in daily swimming lessons to learn the basics and safety
- Each child can take home as many books as they enjoy reading for free

Your donation will make a difference in a child's life.

$70 = one day of camp • $350 = one week of camp • $2,500 = full seven weeks of camp

Get some friends together and sponsor a local kid at camp!

You'll have the chance to come meet your camper this summer!

Be a champion and help a local child to experience the world of summer camp.
