On this Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, the readings describe anything but an ordinary time. They are disturbing and they leave us disturbed. The Old Testament reading recounts a young man's radical break with the past to follow a new path. The Gospel describes how life as we know it is abruptly changed if we follow the call of Christ. The psalm and Paul assure us that such life-altering change is possible only because of the power of God's love. We are presented with a stark choice. To love as God loves, we must leave our old lives behind. We must leave behind not just the bad, the selfish, and the evil but the ordinary, our daily work, and the important, our families, our lives. Loving as God loves requires a radical transformation, not a smooth transition.

LOVE AS GOD LOVES

We do not get to put things away, to say good-byes, or to take care of business. To love as God loves means seeing our neighbors as if nothing else matters but our love for them. We get a glimpse of this when someone we love is near death. Nothing matters but that one person and our love for them. All of the rest of our life falls away and we are left with a single focus, a single vision of that person stripped of all the attachments to position, title, history, future. We see them as God sees them. There is only this one moment, a moment of eternity penetrating time, because nothing else matters but our love for the one whom we soon will lose. This is the depth and breadth of God's love for us. We can share this kind of love, but only if we let go of everything else. Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Company

Solemnity of Saints Peter and Paul

On June 29th the Church celebrates the feast day of Sts. Peter & Paul. As early as the year 258, there is evidence of an already lengthy tradition of celebrating the solemnities of both Saint Peter and Saint Paul on the same day. Together, the two saints are the founders of the See of Rome, through their preaching, ministry and martyrdom there.

www.catholicnewsagency.com

The New Testament clearly shows Peter as the leader of the apostles, chosen by Jesus to have a special relationship with him. With James and John he was privileged to witness the Transfiguration, the raising of a dead child to life and the agony in Gethsemane. His mother-in-law was cured by Jesus. He was sent with John to prepare for the last Passover before Jesus' death. His name is first on every list of apostles.

Paul's central conviction was simple and absolute: Only God can save humanity. No human effort—even the most scrupulous observance of law—can create a human good which we can bring to God as reparation for sin and payment for grace. To be saved from itself, from sin, from the devil, and from death, humanity must open itself completely to the saving power of Jesus.

Quo vadis...

My Dear Parishioners: Today we celebrate the Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time. The word “journey” appears four times in this Sunday’s Gospel, and the word “follow” three times. It’s pretty hard not to get at least the message that we are going somewhere, after someone. Both words yield unexpected repercussions. These two words also divide the gospel into two halves, each with a message for us. During the Season of Ordinary Time, we journey with Jesus to Jerusalem. How do we follow? Do we let the distractions of everyday demands keep us from not welcoming Jesus? Or do we steadfastly journey with Jesus, and let that shape how we undertake our daily tasks. Jesus invites us to journey with him in the ordinary circumstances of our lives. This is where the going gets tough. Not in the extraordinary...but in the ordinary. Follow him!

Religious liberty is a cornerstone of our country. Recently there has been an erosion of religious liberty in our country and throughout the world. Religious liberty shapes our vision and the relationship between the individual and the community, between faith based organizations and government. The erosion of religious liberty continues to blur the lines of responsibility between communities (faith communities in particular) and government. Clearly government is an essential part of our social structure providing order, in service to the common good. However, some have claimed that government continues to lessen the importance of religious liberty and faith based communities in shaping outreach to the poor and needy, educating and forming our children and society, allowing peaceful expressions of faith. Let us continue to pray that the religious liberty upon which this nation has been established will be respected and expanded recognizing that freedom is first and foremost a gift from God.

During the summer months we are working to complete some improvements to our facilities, welcoming our young people for the Summer Intensive Religious Education Program, preparing the Super 50/50 Raffle, providing opportunities for Adult Faith Formation & Bible Study, working to organize our parish operational files as well as archives. Many thanks to all those who generously share their time and talent by volunteering to assist us. Have a great week. Let us remember one another in prayer. Happy Sunday. Peace. Father Jeff

There are people who have changed impossible situations into lives full of possibility. We call them saints. Those are the people who saw beyond the struggles of today. They saw the big picture, and because of that they lived fuller lives every day.

We were made to Thrive!

Thrive: A Life-Changing Experience with the Saints

By: Jon Leonetti, Dynamic Catholic

"We need a program that reaches deep into people's lives, helping them live the ordinary, extraordinary. Jon Leonetti's five-week study on the saints is that program." Matthew Kelly

SESSION 1: THERE'S MORE TO LIFE THAN THIS God has a plan for each one of us. What is a Saint, Meet the Twelve Apostles and Peter and Paul, real people with real personalities.

SESSION 2: WHAT'S HOLDING YOU BACK? Overcome the barrier to sainthood we each place in front of our selves. Meet St Therese of Lisieux, Blessed Teresa of Calcutta and St Teresa of Avila

SESSION 3: YOUR MISSION Become Motivated to take the first concrete steps in your journey to holiness. Define mission. Meet St Elizabeth Ann Seton, St. John the Baptist, St Francis of Assisi, and St Ambrose

SESSION 4: DO YOU BELIEVE IN MIRACLES? Gain a broader understanding of what constitutes the miraculous in saints' lives and in your life too. Meet St. Joseph of Cupertino, St Andre of Montreal and St. Faustina

SESSION 5: THE COURAGE TO BE A SAINT Turn concepts into action. Gain a new inspirational understanding of your own potential and courage to follow what God has in store. What is Courage, St Paul II Blessed Miguel Pro, St Maximillian Kolbe and revisit St Peter

Spiritual Adoption

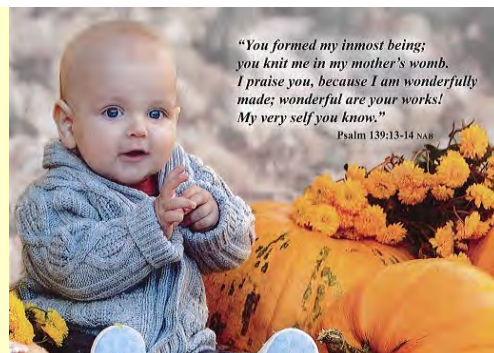

Now that the formal Spiritual Adoption Program has concluded, please keep praying for all babies in danger of abortion and their families.

Bookmarks with the prayer of Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, which you have been reciting for 9 months are available for your continued intercession at this weekend's Agape. This program was overwhelmingly successful.

All of the parish community of St. Mary's had an opportunity to participate and the response was appreciated. Special thanks to the staff and prayer shawl ministry and to all those who volunteered their time to set up, serve, clean-up and pack the donations. Donations and returns of prayer squares will continue through the weekend.

The prayer shawl ministry is to be commended for their continued service, as this summer they will be stitching together the prayer squares into blankets for the babies at Good Counsel other Pro-Life agencies or individuals as needed.

God Bless All who serve the Lord and His children and families by striving to respect and protect life from conception through natural death.

The Martha Mary Guild's "In and Out" Luncheon

Pictured left are the outgoing Martha Mary Guild Co-Presidents, Barbara Matuscak and Tracy Borut (on the ends) and the incoming Co-Presidents Ginny Hamlin and Rorie Coppola. The gavel was passed to them at the Guild's annual "In and Out Luncheon", which was a "High Tea" this year. On May 23, Board members met at the beautiful White House in Oakhurst – no, not in Washington! This White House is the home of Tea 4 U, owned by tea expert Kirsten Kristensen. Living up to its name, the house is a tribute to all things presidential. The foyer wall is festooned with every U.S. President and there is a First Ladies' Room, a Blue Room and a Red Room – which is dedicated to children's tea parties. The Board tea party was absolutely delightful - from homemade scones with the traditional clotted cream, lemon curd and raspberry jam, to sandwiches, desserts and three different kinds of tea. What a way to end the Martha Mary year and look forward to the new one!

Note: A reminder to women of the parish - The Martha Mary Guild is open to all of you! New members are always welcome to join. The Board is looking for new "joiners" too. I guarantee you will enjoy the camaraderie!!
